CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS: 2026 ANTHOLOGY

From foxhole to forest, rucksack to in-between class snack...

Santos Press is accepting poetry submissions from Veterans for its 2026 Veteran Voices Poetry Anthology.

The Project

Curated by a panel of fellow Veterans and Gold Star member, the "Veteran Voices: An anthology of poems by those who served" is accepting original poems written by Veterans. The anthology seeks to showcase the poetic talents of US Veterans.

NO FEES	HARD COPY	YOUR RIGHTS
Zero cost to submit. Zero cost if poem(s) chosen for inclusion.	Selected poets receive a hardcover copy of the Anthology.	Authors retain 100% ownership of their work.

Open to all topics

While subjects reflecting the military experience is primary, accepted entries for the anthology do not have to be about military service. Poetic expressions on any subject, i.e., nature, family, transition, or philosophical reflection are welcome. The priority of the anthology is the totality of the person behind the uniform. Currently serving members (Active, Reserve, Guard) are also welcome to submit.
